GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duties chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally cancelled with a stamp; and if issued after the 30th of June, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot be afterwards effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument to appropriately stamp it renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original processes, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidences of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be fixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and canceled by any one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case, a note or memorandum of the value and denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

Council of State.

This body convened in this City, on Saturday. Present: Messrs. W. A. Wright, William Eaton, Jr., C. J. Cowles, H. A. Lemly, Jesse J. Yeates and R. F. Simonton.

The following nominations were made by the Governor and confirmed by the Council:

Board of Internal Improvement.—Patrick H. Winston, Esq., of Bertie, and Dr. J. G. Ramsay of Rowan.

Literary Board.—Nereus Mendenhall, Esq., of Guilford, H. W. Husted, Esq., of Wake, and Col. Stephen D. Pool, of Wayne.

These appointments are capital.

Where are We?

We trust that the proclamation of the President will be speedily expounded, in order that we may get at some authoritative exposition of its true intent and meaning. As matters stand at present, it would appear that it has only brought fresh trouble and difficulty. We have expressed our own conviction that its object was to restore the States of the South to their original status, in all essentials under the Executive control, as members of the Federal Union, and in that opinion we believe that we shall be sustained by the President. But in the absence of an authentic declaration of its purpose, the proclamation has been construed, in all the cases that have arisen, to the disadvantage of the citizen.

One Federal Judge, in Tennessee, decides that it abolishes military supremacy, and thereby voids the parole of a Confederate officer, (Gen. Rucker,) and deprives him of its protection. On the other hand, another Federal Judge, Underwood, of Virginia, decides that it has not abolished martial rule, and therefore refuses to set aside the sentence of a military tribunal against a citizen of Alexandria.

Again, it is stated that an order, which is kept close, and not allowed to be given out for publication, has been issued by the War Department to all the assistant commissioners of freedmen in the Southern States, instructing them to inform the people that the proclamation of the President did not release them from the operations and government of military law. It is said to be cautiously worded, and, while not declaring martial law in force throughout the late insurrectionary States, is calculated to create the popular impression that such is the fact.

We have reason to believe that the whole subject will be so brought before the President, very shortly, as to elicit an explicit exposition.

Archives of North Carolina.

It is perhaps not generally known that, during the occupation of this City, just one year ago, by Gen. Sherman's armies, a portion of the most valuable archives of the State were abstracted from the State Capitol.

The Westchester Gazette, in the month of October of last year, mentioned that the papers in question, bearing principally upon the Colonial and Revolutionary history of North Carolina,—and therefore of priceless value as State records,—were in the town of Morrisania, New York, in the possession of one Rev. Washington Gladden. It commented in terms of just severity upon the theft, and subsequently stated that the papers had been returned to the Secretary of war, for transmission to the proper authorities, in accordance with the expressed wish of Secretary Seward. At a later period it mentioned that the documents had not been forwarded to Washington,—the Postmaster refusing to forward without prepayment of postage, and the officer who confessed to the abstraction declining to pay it. It was further stated, at one time subsequent, that the package containing the papers was in a billiard saloon in the village, liable to be picked up and carried away by any body who happened to call there! Whether the papers have ever reached the War Department, we have no means of learning. We do know, however, that our Secretary of State has addressed several communications to Secretary Stanton upon the subject, without being able to elicit a reply. Possibly that functionary is too busily engaged in log-rolling with his Radical associates to bestow a thought upon so unimportant a matter!

We deeply deplore the loss of these archives, and trust that no means will be left unessayed in order to recover them. They are an invaluable portion of the early history of the State, and their loss will leave a gap in its records that cannot be supplied.

THE BALTIMORE FAIR.—The Great Southern Fair held in Baltimore closed on Friday last. It was a great success. It could not have resulted otherwise, for the generosity, the beauty, the wealth, and the benevolence of thousands of people were combined in this noble effort to relieve the sufferings of the Southern people. It had also all the aids that business skill and energy could bestow. The amounts realized, and the manner of their distribution, will be duly announced.

The Ermine Soiled.

Chief Justice Chase has recently done what none of his illustrious predecessors ever did or thought of doing. He has, in a public meeting, in the city of New York, expressed his opinion upon the Civil Rights Bill, which he will, doubtless, ere long be called upon to interpret judicially.

This same political Justice, it will be remembered, paid a visit to Wilmington, in this State, last summer. It was then that he first broached the pestilent doctrine of negro equality and negro suffrage. In reply to the objection, raised by gentlemen with whom he conversed upon the subject, that the Constitution was in the way of such aggressions, he is reported to have remarked, substantially, "Oh! this is an age of progress. Constitutions are obsolete!" An expression which foreshadowed the policy of the Radical faction, but which was a burning stigma upon his eminent office, and which was enough to evoke the rebuking spirits of Marshall and Taney! Such conduct recalls the days of judicial corruption, when a Jeffrey disgraced the English bench.

In this same speech, in New York, Judge Chase, with his bosom heaving with philanthropic sentiments, said: "We cannot any longer look upon the face of any human being and not feel that he is our brother man." Was he thinking, then, suggests the Richmond Whig, of the six millions of whites in the eleven disfranchised Southern States? Does he look upon them as brother men and as participants in the heritage of freedom, of which he prates with ceaseless volubility? Alas, no. He was only talking poetry—negro minstrelsy. For the Southern whites, he has nothing but cold and cruel prose.

"Appropriate Legislation."

The Newburyport (Mass.) Herald makes the following just analysis of the expression "appropriate legislation" in sec. 2 of the amendment to the Constitution prohibiting slavery.—It is an elaboration of Mr. Seward's idea that the expression was inserted more to restrain than to enlarge the powers of the Federal Congress in the premises. It says:

"Now, what is appropriate legislation? Evidently this: That which will secure the original intent of the act—simply to make slaves free; that which will prevent their again being reduced to chattelism, and keep them the equals of other free negroes. It cannot be any less than this; and will anybody affirm that it is any more? The slave is made free; he owns himself, and his rights to his wife and children, to his time and labor, to all that pertains to free manhood that he never had before. Whether he has the right to marry out of his race depends upon local laws; the right to bear arms in the militia; the right to vote and hold office; the right to free schools, or to send his children to the same schools with white children; the right to testify in courts; or whether he shall be punished for all crimes committed as a white man; shall inherit, convey, or hold personal or real estate as a white man—these and a thousand other things must depend on the local laws, and these may differ according to the circumstances, opinions, or prejudices of the communities or the States in which they live. To say that this is not so, but that Congress may enter the States and interfere with the municipal regulations, repealing or annulling them at will, is to declare that there shall be no States. It is an assumption of power never yet permitted, and which never should be permitted, though it cost a thousand revolutions more bloody and costly than any we have ever seen yet; for upon the maintenance of the reserved and hitherto admitted rights of the States depends our entire structure of Government—our peace, prosperity, and freedom as a people. In a State, we may institute, if we please, a police and a spy system that shall reach every house and person; we may regulate capital and labor to the hours of work, the proceedings in our courts, the modes of education, &c., &c.; but to vest the National Congress with powers to do these things in States, and back those powers with military force, would reduce this whole Union to a "Dead Sea" of despotism, or make it a boiling caldron of anarchy—the semi-hell condition of Spanish America."

If we had used such language as is contained in the body of this extract, we should have been denounced as "disloyal," and, very probably, have been "suppressed."

NORTH CAROLINA.

Re-open the following offices:

Lillington, New Hanover county, J. A. Duponge, postmaster, vice William C. Newell.

Harrell's Store, New Hanover county, Joseph W. Bland, postmaster, vice O. M. Lewis.

Appointments—Mary Caton, postmistress, Fulton, Rowan county, North Carolina, vice M. Hobbs, declined.

Robert B. Bogle, postmaster, Lenoir, Caldwell county, N. C., vice Mrs. M. V. Rainey, declined.

A. J. Blanchard, postmaster, New Hill, Wake county, North Carolina, vice Robert M. Brown, declined.

George J. Dowell, postmaster, Cary, Wake county, North Carolina; A. H. Dowell cannot take the oath.

Mrs. Mary Green, postmistress, Warrenton, Warren county, North Carolina, vice Mrs. Lucy E. Polk, resigned.

TOO POLITE.—The New Orleans correspondent of the New York Christian Advocate says that whatever may have been thought of the policy of taking southern churches, it is evident now that it was a great mistake.

North Carolina Vindicated before the Reconstruction Committee.

The following very interesting statements, we copy from the Washington dispatches of the New York Herald of the 12th inst. We are highly gratified at the favorable testimony of Mr. Cook, in regard to this State. He has been a resident of the State for a year and Editor of the Wilmington Herald, living in a community which perhaps as strongly sympathised with the Southern cause as any in the State, and he has had more than ordinary opportunities as a Northern man to ascertain the true status of our people. Yet, we believe, he has given a true account of the feeling in this State.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE.

Mr. Thomas M. Cook, editor of the Wilmington (N. C.) Herald, was examined at great length by the Reconstruction Committee to-day. The chief interest attaching to the testimony of this witness was his exposition of affairs in Richmond immediately upon the surrender of Lee's army, including the circumstances attending President Lincoln's visit to that city, embracing facts communicated to the New York Herald, at the time, of which paper Mr. Cook was then a special correspondent. Mr. Cook testified to the propositions submitted by President Lincoln to Judge Campbell looking to an adjustment of the relations of the South to the Union, in which Mr. Lincoln suggested three points as essential to peace:—First, the disbandment of the rebel armies; second, the full submission of the Southern people to the authority of the United States, and, third, no abatement by the Executive from his position on the emancipation of the slaves. This was submitted to Judge Campbell, in Richmond, a few days after the rebel evacuation of that city, and was subsequently reclaimed and suppressed by the military on authority transmitted from Washington. It was the more important for its added paragraphs, in which the late President declared that any propositions not inconsistent with the foregoing would be received and considered in a spirit of kindness and liberality; also that those who should immediately accept these terms would place themselves in a condition to avoid the operation of the confiscation law, the execution of which was optional with the President. Mr. Cook also testified at length in regard to the call issued under permission of General Weitzel for the assembling of the Virginia Legislature, showing that the original authority for the meeting of that body was given by President Lincoln in a note addressed to General Weitzel from City Point, on the day following the President's visit to Richmond, and was granted in response to a request to that effect emanating from Judge Campbell. On Mr. Lincoln's return to Washington this permit was revoked, but the suppression of the circumstances has tended hitherto to impress the public mind with the opinion that General Weitzel was responsible for the call of this Legislature. The testimony of Mr. Cook is conceded to have established the fact that Mr. Lincoln, to the extent that his policy of reconstruction had been developed at the time of his death, was even more conservative and more liberally disposed towards the South than has been his successor. It should be stated that Mr. Cook spent six weeks in Richmond in the investigation of the matters of which he testifies, immediately upon their occurrence, having been assigned to that special duty by the New York Herald.—He is therefore a competent witness. He was also examined in regard to the present state of feeling in North Carolina. He considered the people of that State, with perhaps an occasional insignificant exception, perfectly loyal in their impulses. There is no intention or disposition among those who were secessionists to renew the attempt to secede from the Union. Neither does he think that in the event of a foreign war any portion of the people of that State would join the common enemy. He did not remember of having heard, during a residence of over a year in the State, of any contemptuous expressions towards the government or any branch of it. Occasionally individual members of Congress would be severely denounced elsewhere; but such denunciations by no means applied to the body as a whole. He did not believe the people of North Carolina were ready or willing to treat the freedmen fully as an equal; they were willing to admit him to testify in cases where he was a party in interest, to sue and be sued, hold, convey and bequeath real estate, &c.; but they would not permit him to sit in the jury box, vote or to hold office.—The people were willing that the negroes should be educated, but were opposed to the efforts of Northern missionaries to that effect, because of the disposition of such missionaries to interfere with the peaceful relations of servant and employer. In reply to a question the witness stated that he did not believe the Southern white people were yet prepared to undertake the education of blacks, but he thought they were coming to it. In reply to another question he stated that he believed a Southern jury would pass honestly and fairly upon the case of any negro that should be brought before it.—The recent case of the judicial flogging of negroes in the streets of Wilmington did not disprove this. There are no penitentiaries in North Carolina, and felonies, whether committed by blacks or whites, are punishable by whipping, branding and hanging. In the case referred to, had the prisoners been whites the Court would have been compelled, under the laws of the State, to sentence them to be whipped.

WE PUBLISH on our first page, to-day, and shall keep standing for some time, for the convenient reference of our readers, a schedule of the stamp duties, under the Internal Revenue law, from and after August 1, 1864.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—SENATE.—The Senate concurred in the House amendments and passed the bill to reimburse Moissouri for certain war expenses.

Mr. Stewart presented a joint resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction, proposing an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting distinction on account of color and the payment of the Rebel debt, and providing that when any one of the eleven States shall comply with these conditions it shall be entitled to representation.

Several Senators delivered eulogies on the late Senator Foot.

HOUSE.—The House passed the Senate bill authorizing the President to transfer a gun-boat to the Liberian Government.

The Senate joint resolution protesting against the pardon of criminals by foreign Governments on condition of their emigrating hither, was agreed to.

In the House testimonials of respect to the late Senator Foot were also presented.

ALBANY, April 11.—This afternoon a Frenchman, whose name is not known, and a man named Michael Chestnut, had an angry discussion over political matters on Broadway, during which Chestnut struck the Frenchman a powerful blow on the head, killing him instantly. Chestnut has not been arrested.

GENERAL NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—Christopher Deering, wife, niece and four children, an entire family of seven persons, were found murdered this evening, at their late residence here, on the suburbs. The horrible crime is supposed to have been perpetrated on Saturday, by a German laboror on the farm, and a boy, for plunder. The bodies of Deering and wife and niece were found in the barn covered with straw, and the others in a corn-crib. One of the victims was a baby ten months old. The horses and cattle were found to be nearly famished.

The supposed murderers have disappeared. Deering and his niece were from home on Saturday morning, and it is supposed that his wife and children were murdered during his absence, and that he and his niece were killed on their return. The bodies presented a horrible appearance, having been mutilated with knife and axe. Only one of the family survives, a child aged ten years, who is on a visit to distant relations.

Sir Hugh Rose, the new Commander-in-Chief of the British army in Ireland, has seen hard service in India, and is the man who blew the Sepoy leaders from the mouths of his cannon.

Pennsylvania will have to pay as her share of the Freedmen's Bureau for the current year one million five hundred thousand dollars.

When James Gordon Bennett was a young man, he wandered about Boston seeking employment for two days, pennfless and without food, and was then relieved only by finding a shilling on the Common.

It is no doubt the intention of the majority in Congress to enact some law to remove the appointing power to a great extent from the President and vest it in Congress.

On the 3d inst., Peter Penn Gaskill, Esq., the head of the lineal descendants of William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania, died in Philadelphia, after a short illness, on his sixty-sixth birthday.

TORONTO, April 12.—Preparations to meet the anticipated raids actively continue. The Cabinet meets daily, the proceedings of which are kept from the public.

The reported statement that President Johnson gave issue to a proclamation in reference to the Fenian movement is received here with much satisfaction.

MONTREAL, April 12.—The greatest activity prevails in all the Canadian cities to keep out the cholera. Preliminary sanitary measures are being taken in anticipation of its approach.

It is estimated, says the Chicago Times, that one thousand persons were killed or wounded by the late tornado in Pope and Johnson counties, in Illinois.

Gen. D. C. Buell has published a letter to Gen. Grant, in explanation and justification of his conduct at the battle of Shiloh and his movements previously.

The New York Methodist Conference has passed resolutions thanking the Senate for passing the civil rights bill over the President's veto.

Parson Brownlow says: "I am not afraid to indorse Sumner and Stevens on my own dung hill." A dung hill is the only place where they should be indorsed.—Prentice.

One comfort is that if you cannot find them on the head, you are sure to, in the bill.

MORE EXPLICIT IF NECESSARY.—Springfield, Mass., desires a brief biographical record of the soldiers who went from that city to the war.—The city clerk, therefore, sent out circulars, and received from one hero a reply covering fifty-four pages, with a postscript expressing willingness to be more explicit if necessary.

A picture is said to have been offered for the forthcoming exhibition, entitled "Dead Game, by A. J., Washington."

A French writer says that there are but four great social ideas, viz: Birth, Marriage, Paris, and Death.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Radical Howl for Blood---They Cry for the Execution of Mr. Davis---The Subject Before Congress---The Supreme Court, the Radicals and the President.

The news from Washington will be found worthy of deep attention. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes as follows:

RADICAL IMPORTUNITY FOR THE EXECUTION OF PRESIDENT DAVIS.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The President is besought by every Republican politician who comes to the city to hang all the traitors in a row, with Jefferson Davis at the head. Every Radical, upon his arrival here, rushes to the White House with the inquiry, "Why don't you try Jeff. Davis and hang him?" All the children at home are represented as crying for the head of the rebel chief.

REPLIES OF THE PRESIDENT—THE SUPREME COURT.

The President replies to these importunities that he is not a public executioner; that there are some five hundred of the accused, perhaps, some of whom are now in prison awaiting trial by order of Congress, or of the United States Courts. Take them, he says, and hang them if you will, but you won't make me your Jack Ketch. The United States Supreme Court has adjourned without making any attempt to bring Mr. Davis or anybody else to trial, though, under the act establishing the judicial system of the United States, the court has the power to order a special session of any Circuit Court at any time.

TRIAL OF MR. DAVIS IN VIRGINIA.

Chief Justice Chase cannot now object that Virginia is in a state of insurrection, but he and other members of the court probably believe that Mr. Davis will be acquitted of the charge of treason if tried in any State lately in rebellion. Congress, no doubt, entertains the same opinion.

DECISION TO BE ARRIVED AT—PROBABLE RELEASE OF MR. DAVIS.

Congress is now about to be brought, by Mr. Raymond's resolution, to a decision upon the subject, and if they refuse to take upon themselves the responsibility of action in the matter, it would not be surprising if the President should order that Jefferson Davis and his confederates be paroled or dismissed. Pains are taken, it will be seen, by the President's friends, to exonerate him from all blame of the delay in bringing Messrs. Davis, C. C. Clay and others to a trial for treason.

RADICAL DETERMINATION TO KEEP THEIR POWER.

Congress, as it appears from the speeches made by the Republican members at the Indiana demonstration, Wednesday night, will not terminate the session till they shall have put it out of the power of the President to thwart their policy. So, having got him down, they will stay here, as was declared, to roll over him.

The Charlotte Democrat says that within the past two months the people of Mecklenburg county have paid to the U. S. Internal Revenue collector the sum of $15,144 as a part of their direct land tax, besides other taxes paid to U. S. officers.

And yet these people have no representation, are denounced as traitors, and have Freedmen's Bureaus—Heaven help them!—Petersburg Index.

THE SENTINEL.

Thursday, April 26, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

[Reported expressly for the Sentinel.]

Trial of Major Jno. H. Gee.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, April 25, 1866.

Edward C. Yellowley, sworn: Lives in Pitt County, N. C. Was Lt. Col. 68th N. C. Regiment; was in command of the troops at Salisbury, for eight or ten days, until relieved by Col. Hoke. These were State troops. A small portion of the stockade was put up after I arrived; no platforms when I got there. The fence was made of planks, 8 or 10 feet high, placed perpendicularly and close together, nailed to cross pieces. I did not consider it very substantial. A few men might have knocked through it. I think eight or ten men might have pushed over a portion by their weight. My impression is that the planks were nailed on the outside [illegible] and scantling showed on the inside. I [illegible] it thoroughly; it looked like an old wall.

I issued an order to post sentinels outside the wall. [The witness pointed out on map the position of his regiment and the other commands.] One morning, it was reported to me that two men escaped after the outside line had been posted, and on another occasion three prisoners got out through the ditch that ran from the sinks through the field—these last were taken. The two who escaped were fired at by a sentinel, but ran away. After a rain, a man could dig under the wall without much difficulty.

I went to Salisbury about the 10th of October, and on 2nd of November, got a thirty days' sick leave. When I returned, the regiment was encamped in the woods, on the other side of the creek. Major Gee wanted to have a company encamped opposite the water-gate. I declined to do it.

My officer told me that he made the three prisoners who escaped return through the outlet. He did not report it to Major Gee.

It was a difficult matter to get wood hauled to our camp. We had wagons belonging to the command which reached us about 10 days after we went there, but at first the Quartermaster of my regiment complained. I heard Capt. Goodman frequently complain. His best teams had been taken away from him.

I heard that a soldier of my command shot Lieut. Davis. Maj. Gee had no power to furlough him. He could be only furloughed in the usual way. I was in command of the regiment at that time; no such furlough went through me. If he had been furloughed I should remember it. I had my information of the shooting from several officers, and either went to see or sent for the officer of the day at the time of the occurrence, who belonged to my regiment. His statement corroborated what I had heard, that this sentinel had shot a prisoner that had crossed the dead line. I think the officer of the day was Capt. C. W. Grandy. There was a necessity for the dead line. It was important that the prisoners should not get near the wall.

Maj. Gee represented to me that he had men digging wells night and day. He had the idea of enlarging the prison, to the creek. I heard a conversation between him and Gen. Martin about directing the creek so as to have a stream of water run through the prison. I afterwards thought it could not be done. It would have taken a considerable outlay and length of time. Prisoners of war were allowed to go to the creek for water—about one-fourth of a mile. They were strung along the whole road going and returning, from 30 to 40 going constant. I never passed that way without seeing them. I have seen them washing in the creek; the guard did not seem to hurry them.

Our rations were not abundant or choice.—When we first arrived there we got fresh beef for a week or ten days—afterwards, on only every other drawing day—alternated with sorghum. Very often I had only sorghum and flour. I had an abundance of it—a very little of it was abundance. Major Myers visited me and apologized for the provisions and at the same time said he would not be able to give us fresh beef much longer. He had a large supply, but had sent it off to Lee's army before the arrival of the prisoners, and that he had but short notice of their arriving, and was unable to get supplies for them.

I was able to purchase bacon for my mess from the commissary. We were authorized by law to draw one ration and purchase one.

On one occasion I enquired of Major Gee about the number of prisoners, and he told me that he had requested that no more should be sent, that it was against his wishes they continued to arrive.

I heard him speak of Maj. Morfit's inefficiency. Gee stated that Morfit was sent there as prison quartermaster, and that it was his duty to have shelter built and to procure water for the prisoners—that he could not get him to do anything. Maj. Gee had no power to arrest Morfit, or control over him. I think either Maj. Gee or Capt. Goodman told me he had made a requisition for 200,000 feet of lumber for shelter. I wanted some for myself and went to see Goodman, and he told me that he had only one mill that he could run, and then the timber had to be cut and hauled before it could be sawed. The duty of the guard was pretty heavy.

Maj. Gee spoke of shelter and the small space for ground for the prison—he was especially solicitous in regard to water.

Cross-Examined.—I was in command of troops for about 8 days in the early part of October.—I had no authority over the prison or Major Gee. My duty was to grant him such details as he might make—no authority to refuse him troops. The guard around outside was an additional one to that which Gee called for.—When I was in command of the troops, if the prisoners had suffered for water, and Maj. Gee had made requisition for a stronger guard, I could have granted a small one. There were 1300 or 1400 altogether. When I first went, there he asked for 150 a day; afterwards from 250 to 300—cant say exactly. There were some 4000 or 5000 prisoners there when I first went to Salisbury.

I know of no other efforts of Maj. Gee apart from what he said in these conversations. The rations issued to my men were the same in quantity and quality as those issued to me. I remember asking the question, whether the prisoners received the same rations, and his reply was that they did. It was enough to get along on. We always received plenty of bread. On one or two occasions, I went up on the platform and looked into the prison. I saw a good deal of emaciation, some looked very dejected, some cheerful.

My command had tent flies. Colonel Hoke's regiment built quarters. I think there could not have been a force detailed to guard the prisoners. I think the guard was too weak for the number of prisoners there. I saw Hoke's command carry the lumber on their shoulders. They rived the boards at their quarters.

Q. If there had been 10,000 rebel convicts in that prison, would they have suffered as those prisoners did?

A. I don't see what there was to prevent it. The lumber that Hoke's regiment used would not have built the stockade.

Col. Hoke's command came by squads, and were organized at Salisbury.

Q. Was there any excuse for not allowing prisoners to go and get as much water as they wanted at the creek?

A. There was not enough guard.

The man who shot Lieut. Davis could have received a furlough, upon Maj. Gee's recommendation, without going through my hands, I don't know that he did not recommend it; think I would have known, if he had.

The man who did this shooting was removed from his post.

Re-Direct.—From the report made to me there was no ground for punishing him. The guard, as I understood it, warned the prisoner and he rejected the warning and was shot. It was Maj. Gee's duty to investigate it.

To the Court.—The man who shot Davis was small,—about 17 years old,—thin, and had a silent look,—rather undersized,—was never reported to me as unfit for duty as sentinel, because of any mental disability.

Before I went home on furlough there was no shelter for the prisoners, but they had tents afterwards.

Of a large ratio of the dead I should have regarded confinement and want of exercise and shelter as the causes.

The size of the stockade was limited. I don't know why it was not enlarged. The deficiency in procuring timber and the scarcity of the guards were good reasons against its being enlarged.

Court adjourned until 10 A. M., to-day.

GENERALS STEDMAN AND FULLERTON.—We noticed, on yesterday, the arrival of these gentlemen in this city, on the mission upon which they were sent by the President, viz: To investigate the operations of the Freedmen's Bureau and report upon the social status of the Southern States. They have been doubtless called upon by many of our citizens, who are competent to give them correct and unperverted information as to the true state of affairs in our midst.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, who accompanied these distinguished officers in their tour through Virginia, describes the result of their observations as having shown conclusively that the representations of radical leaders and papers, showing antagonism between the races and outrages upon the weaker one, are exaggerations of individual cases, and wholly inapplicable to the people generally. The correspondent was strongly impressed before his visit with the idea that the antagonism between the races was bitter and relentless, and has been astonished to find its entire absence. He represents the reliance, respect and dependence of the days of slavery as still existing, and pictures the native Virginians as the friends and tutors of their former slaves.

IREDELL SUPERIOR COURT.—This Court was held last week. The criminal docket was not large. Ex-Gov. Vance was in attendance, and the American says, is obtaining an extensive practice at the bar.

NEWBERN AFFAIRS.—The Commercial chronicles the arrival, by steamer El. Cid, of a large number of white emigrants, farm hands and house servants, intended for planters in the vicinity and citizens of the city, furnished by Messrs. Nash & Graham.

The Times announces no less than five robberies within less than the same number of days. It says there is no doubt but that there is an organized band of thieves in the community.

GEN. R. E. LEE.—It is rumored that this distinguished gentleman will attend the ensuing Commencement, in June, of the University of N. C.

ATLANTIC & N. C. R. R.—We suggested, a few days since, the propriety of the various Railroad Companies exhibiting to the public their most liberal tariff of freights, &c.

Mr. Thomas, the President of the Atlantic & N. C. R. R., accordingly publishes the following information:

OFFICE ATLANTIC & N. C. R. R. Co.,
Newbern, N. C., April 21, 1866.

The Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company are now prepared to carry as cheaply and with as economical dispatch, as any other Railroad Company that has felt the effects of the late war. Their road, since its delivery to them on the 26th of October last, has been put in good order—the rolling stock has been overhauled and repaired, new rolling stock has been purchased, and the machine shops and station houses, &c., have all undergone re-fitting or repair. The track from Morehead City to Goldsboro' is in good running order.

The Company have competent and trust worthy agents and employees, willing to work.

The rates of freight, local rates and through rates with the N. C. R. R. Co., and steamer line from Morehead City and Newbern, to New York, have been reduced.

Present cotton rate from Charlotte to New York, is seven dollars per bale.

Freights outward may be pre-paid, or paid in New York.

Freights onward should be paid to the Company's agent, or on delivery by connecting road.

Goods consigned to Company's agent, either at Morehead City or Newbern, will be forwarded free of extra charges by way of commission, drayage or wharfage.

Marine insurance can be effected at ½ per centum by steamer line.

An arrangement for "through cars" was sometime since agreed upon with North Carolina Railroad Company; and the same will be carried out as far as separate corporations can do so.

Special contracts of affreightment may be made by order of the Board of Directors with the President, and, whilst I deprecate an underbidding or illiberal policy in railroading, I will make special contracts to carry all goods at least on as good terms and conditions as can be made with any other competing line of railroad.

C. R. THOMAS,
President A. & N. C. R. R.

A Remarkable Case.

DISEASE IN WHICH THE LUNGS AND THROAT ARE INVOLVED.—Mrs. Phebe Perkinson, Petersburg, Va., (Aug. 26, 1865,) says: "I hereby certify, that two years ago last June, I was afflicted with a disease commonly called the Breast Complaint, the pain and weakness in the breast continued to increase so that I could not bear my clothes fastened on me for the space of two years; I found great difficulty in breathing; a general debility prevailed over my whole system—so much so, that I could not walk up the steps without drawing myself up by the banister; had a continued hacking cough, which distressed me greatly, four times during my illness had Hemorrhage of the Lungs. All medical treatment failed to afford me relief: it was the opinion of my friends that I must die with the consumption: I was advised to use the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS; after using three boxes, strictly according to directions, I find myself in the enjoyment of perfect health; I have a good appetite, have become as fleshy as I ever was, sleep sound and pleasant, and can perform any duty with as much strength and vigor as I ever did. They certainly have acted like a perfect charm on me."

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by I. Maggiel, 4 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Erruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Can er or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sar-aparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayers Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

RALEIGH, 1866.

[LIFE] INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assetts of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8,819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527,805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,234 33.

In Raleigh, a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

CIRCULAR.

The Co-partnership of G. W. DEEMS & C. F. DEEMS has been dissolved, by mutual consent, and the business of manufacturing the Southern has gone into the hands of G. W. DEEMS, the discoverer, who has removed to Baltimore, Md., where he can have access to the purest and best Medicines, on the most favorable terms. He will always keep on hand a large supply and will sell to his customers, wholesale and retail, at the shortest notice.

Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been circulated so extensively, they need no recommendation—their merits are so well known by their results.

We thank our customers for the liberal patronage given us heretofore, and hope they will continue to favor us by sending their orders to G. W. DEEMS, No 28 South Calhoun Street, Baltimore, Md., where they will be promptly attended to, the cash accompanying the orders. Price 30 cts. per box; $2.50 per dozen, and a liberal discount to dealers.
